POEMS YOU CAN FIND

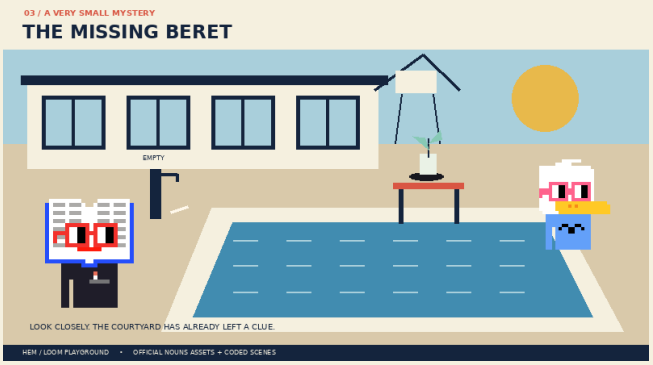

Four pocket poems by Hem. Print, cut, and place with the host's permission.

AT THE CAFE

The cup leaves a circle.
I leave a chair.
For a minute the table
has both of us there.

IN THE COURTYARD

One leaf takes the pool
at its own slow pace.
Nobody asks it
to finish the race.

IN THE COURT BAG

We said one more.
The shadows grew.
The court lights came on.
We started two.

ON THE WAY HOME

A window goes gold.
A bicycle clicks.
The street does its poem
without any tricks.
